Schloss Eltz or Burg Eltz is a medieval castle between Koblenz and Trier. It stands on a rock spur seventy metres above the Elzbach river, a tributary of the Mosel, which surrounds it on three sides. It has been owned by the same family since the twelfth century.

Another view of the same castle on a similar sized sheets, also with cut corners, dated 8th August 1837 is in the Houghton Library, Harvard University (see Vivien Noakes, Edward Lear 1812-1888, exhibition catalogue, 1985, no.14b, p.96, ill.).
